HOT: The warm weather saw many families out playing in the fountain in St George's Square. More sun has been predicted for the early part of this coming week

Follow us on Twitter
@LutonOnSunday

From stormy weather to scorching summer's day

CHILDREN spent Friday afternoon frolicking in the sun as temperatures hit highs of 29 degrees.

Despite the day starting with a thunderstorm in the early hours of the morning, the sun eventually came out later in the day.

Forecasters had predicted that the start of the weekend would largely be sunny, with a risk of heavy showers.

On Friday morning, residents in the town were woken up at around 2am with flashes of lightning.

One Luton On Sunday reader from Sundon Park said he had been woken up at 2am by flashes of lightning coming through his blinds.

An online graphic showed that most of the lightning strikes in Bedfordshire that morning had been in Luton.

However, as the day went on the sun came out and made for a hot and humid ending to the day.

Islamic Centre distances itself from Syria article

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN Islamic Centre has distanced itself from comments made in a BBC article about British women being involved in the Syrian conflict.

The Luton Islamic Centre, in Bury Park Road, said it 'actively discourages Muslims from the UK from travelling to Syria to fight'. It follows a story by the BBC which quoted a Luton Muslim woman saying she would travel there to 'help or fight'.

In the article, the BBC reporter describes how she spoke to a 'number of Muslim women in Luton about their desire to be involved'. She says she met one outside the Centre.

The journalist wrote: "The woman is 20 and comes across as strong, intelligent and articulate, and refuses to give her name. But she is clear about why she would fight."

She told the BBC Muslims are 'all one body - if one part aches, the whole body aches'.

And she added: "I would definitely fight for them because what's happening to them is not all right... If I could go today, I would."

In a statement, The Islamic Centre said it could not be 'held responsible' for views of people who attended its mosque for prayers. The statement said: "The Luton Islamic Centre actively discourages Muslims from the UK from travelling to Syria to fight."

"We work closely with a registered charity called Crisis Aid which works within Syria. Crisis Aid works in those areas which receive no aid from other agencies."

"We encourage our community to give generously to this charity. Many individuals attend our mosque for prayers. We cannot be held responsible for their individual comments or views."

Sajda Mughal, the head of the London-based Jan Trust which has been running an awareness campaign on forced marriage in Luton and also training Muslim mothers on how to keep their children away from extremist material online, said the comments in the article represented a 'very small minority' of people in the town.

She said: "In all honesty, when we have worked in Luton, we have not picked up those views and it's quite concerning for the article to pick up on this one individual."

"We understand that some individuals in Luton want to help in Syria, but on the humanitarian side of things, and this article is focusing on one person. When we have gone out and spoken to the community, they have not possessed this kind of ideology."

"Had this article been from a huge sample base, then we could have said there is something. You can't say that is the whole of Luton because they are not like that."

"When we have worked with mothers in our 'Web Guardians' programme, they have shared their concerns about Syria, as do many other Muslims and other non-Muslims. Articles such as these are quite detrimental to relationships in Luton and I know that people out there are trying to work to build these relationships, and this does not help."

Six deny trying to kill love rival in 'fake crash'

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN was behind a plot to have his love rival murdered so he could have a relationship with his fiancée, a jury has heard.

Luton Crown Court was told the scheme allegedly involved deliberately crashing a car into Atif Ali's silver Audi as he drove to work in Luton on May 20 last year.

When he got out to inspect the damage to the rear of his car, it's claimed a man got out of the other vehicle and fired a sawn off double barrelled shot gun at Mr Ali from close range.

Stuart Trimmer QC, prosecuting, told the court the blast caused serious life-threatening injuries to Mr Ali who was shot in his upper left thigh.

The gunman is then said to have got back into the other car, a Ford Mondeo, and drove off.

Mr Ali, who was 27 at the time, needed life saving surgery.

Mr Trimmer was outlining the prosecution's case against six men said to have been part of a conspiracy to murder Mr Ali.

He told the jury that the man behind the plot was Shahzad Mahroof, 28, of Selbourne Road, Luton.

Bernard Pillay, 41, from Campion Close, Uxbridge, was to be the gunman, said Mr Trimmer, and the shotgun was allegedly supplied by Matthew McCafferty, 23, from Roman Way, Flitwick.

Mark O'Neil, 41, of Lansbury Drive, Hayes, Middlesex, is said to have been given the job of driving Mr Pillay to Luton for the shooting. The jury was told that also involved in the conspiracy to murder Mr Ali was Mahboob Baig, 31, of Overstone Road, Luton, and Sajed Hussain, 31, of Portland Road, Luton.

Mr Trimmer said Mr Ali was engaged to marry Nazeem Dadd but Mr Mahroof wanted a relationship with her, and he could not secure approval from her or her family.

Mr Trimmer added Mr Mahroof was intent on pursuing the relationship but her intended marriage 'stood in the way'. He said that a few days before the shooting of Mr Ali, his fiancée had spoken to Mr Mahroof in a phone call which began after midnight and lasted six hours.

The jury was told in the weeks and months leading up to the shooting, Mr Mahroof had made threats to Mr Ali and a week before had shouted that he was a 'dead man'.

Mr Trimmer claimed that when the threats failed, arrangements were made for Mr Ali's murder.

All six men plead not guilty to conspiracy to murder.

Mr McCafferty, Mr Baig, Mr O'Neil and Mr Hussain also deny conspiracy to commit grievous bodily harm. The jury was told Mr Mahroof and Mr Pillay had pleaded guilty to this charge.

Mr Mahroof also denies making a threat to kill Mr Ali and Mr Mr McCafferty denies a charge of possessing a firearm with intent to endanger life, having a firearm with intent and possessing a prohibited firearm.

The trial continues.

Freedom of the town invitation for Still's side

LUTON Town boss John Still is to be invited to accept the Honorary Freedom of the Borough on behalf of the Hatters following their return to the Football League last season.

The motion was put forward during a meeting on Tuesday by Liberal Democrat Councillor Michael Dolling, who is a long-term Luton fan.

He said the club's promotion was a 'remarkable achievement' following 'five painful years' of the side playing non-league football.

The motion was passed with the support of councillors from all three parties and no-one voted against it.

Cllr Dolling said: "Having a successful football team brings cultural, social and financial benefits to Luton and we should congratulate the management, staff and supporters.

"The promotion has only been achieved because everyone has worked so hard and proved they have been united in the one aim of restoring League football to Luton."

If accepted, a special meeting will be held by the council where the award will be given to Mr Still.

INVITE: John Still has led Luton back into the Football League

LUDUN SALE CREATES TRUST FUND

A £123,000 FUND has been created to help people with disabilities access education, training and employment following the sale of the LuDun site in Dunstable.

Councillors from Central Bedfordshire Council's Executive agreed this week that the authority's share of the capital from the sale of the site should be transferred to a partnership between The Disability Resource Centre, based in Dunstable, and the Bedfordshire and Luton Community Foundation (BLCF).

As a charity, the BLCF are able to apply for matched funding which means the council's contribution of £82,263 increases to £123,395. LuDun was originally set up in the 1950s to help those injured in the Second World War. The LuDun site closed in May 2011.

Plastic fork thief with dirty hands attacks takeaway worker

A TAKEAWAY worker was punched several times before her attacker stole a handful of plastic forks.

The 28-year-old victim was in Tang's Takeaway in Beechwood Road, Luton, on Wednesday at 1.20pm when a man entered the restaurant and asked for some free food.

When she said no, he became aggressive and demanded that she give him a fork.

The woman refused again and at this point the man leapt over the counter and punched her in the face, causing her to fall to the floor.

He then started searching under the counter and throwing things on the floor.

The victim grabbed hold of his t-shirt but he punched her again, this time on the chest, before stealing a handful of plastic forks and running out of the restaurant while making further threats.

The victim was left with swelling to her face, scratches to her forearms and a sore back.

The offender is described as a white man in his 40s, around 5ft 10ins tall, of slender build and with dirty hands.

He was wearing a light green baseball cap, a dirty white t-shirt and light brown cargo trousers.

Anyone with information should contact 01582 394434 or 101.

Peacock's 'flying' visit ruffles a few feathers

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A FAMILY had a surprise visitor this week after a peacock mysteriously appeared in their back garden.

The bird was spotted on Tuesday by ten-year-old Issah Uddin and his seven-year-old brother Ismail who live in Black Swan Lane.

Their father, who was at work when his sons sent him a picture of the bird, said he did not know where it came from.

Mr Uddin said: "It got there about two o'clock. When my family came back from school they saw it and the boys were a bit scared of it but my wife was not too fussed."

"We are not sure how it got in. We are trying to find out where it could have come from."

On Wednesday Mr Uddin said he went into his garden to give the bird some food but it flew onto his neighbour's roof, where it spent the night.

David Anderson, the president of the Bedfordshire Bird Club, said he had never heard of peacock sightings in Luton but had been aware of some in other parts of Bedfordshire.

He added: "Normally you would need a big garden and a fenced garden to keep a peacock."

PECKING ORDER: The peacock makes itself at home in a garden in Black Swan Lane

"Somewhere like Wardown Park, when it was private residence, would have been fine."

"There are some people in Silsoe or Cophill who report the occasional peacock."

"Peacocks tend to make a lot of noise and they tend to scratch around a lot as well."

PROTESTERS: A diverse group of people gathered with their banners and placards in St George's Square

Hundreds rally in support of Gaza

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PRO-Gaza protest was held in Luton on Friday, with crowds out in force in St George's Square.

Outside the town hall, hundreds of people gathered in support of the war-torn region.

People arrived at the protest at 3pm, with it running until 6pm in 29 degree heat.

The scorching temperature didn't deter those in attendance, who were in good voice, with shouts of 'Free Palestine' ringing throughout the area.

People also held banners with messages of support for the people of Gaza, as Palestinian flags were waved.

A number of speakers were present, who called for a ceasefire between Israel and Gaza.

There was a diverse group of people in attendance, with members of all of Luton's communities coming out to have their voices heard after the event had been heavily publicised on social media.

Minor disruption occurred in the town centre, with several roads closed as a result of the protest.

Wellington Street, Alma Street, George Street, Manchester Street and Upper George Street were all affected.

Shoppers and businesses were urged to carry on as normal, despite the increased number of people in the town centre.

Upset as public spats ban leaked

BY NICK SMITH AND CARL MUNGAZI
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A LEAKED Labour Party document has revealed a ban on public disagreements between the party's Luton councillors.

The document states that "members have the right to disagree over an issue or to air a grievance but only within the confines of internal meetings by the Labour Group."

The document was finalised on Friday, July 11 in a Luton Labour party group meeting and subsequently leaked.

The leader of the Labour controlled Luton council, Hazel Simmons, said: "These are merely guidelines which have been in place since I started as a councillor."

"A backbencher merely asked for them to be put down in writing."

On the document being out in the open, Cllr Simmons said: "I'm very disappointed with the leak. What was the point of having the meeting over it?

UNHAPPY: Cllr Hazel Simmons

"We spoke about it for 20 minutes, changed some of the wording and then it passed through unanimously."

"I'm disappointed by the fact somebody would leak it, especially considering what the meeting was about."

The document, from Labour chief whip Paul Castleman, says: "Members must ensure they do nothing publicly or in the media to show dissent, embarrass or damage the council or the reputation and standing of other group members."

Cllr Simmons has also said that the document does not equal a gag, however some councillors have expressed concern.

One serving Labour councillor told Luton on Sunday: "Labour councillors have been put in a very difficult situation and, according to the policy, can now not represent the views of constituents for which they have been elected, at the expense of the council and the Labour party's reputation."

"It's simply another example of bullying, harassment and abuse."

"It's a farcical situation."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Bid for solar farm faces opposition

PLANS for a 40-acre solar farm in the heart of 'unspoiled' countryside have been met with anger from nearby residents.

Engena Ltd, on behalf of developer Solafields, submitted plans for Faldo Farm in Barton-Le-Clay, which would see 34,000 solar panels installed across land which helped inspire John Bunyan to pen The Pilgrim's Progress. Heather Stirling, of Pulloxhill, said: "This beautiful valley has been unchanged for 400 years and is part of our heritage."

Director Mark Candish said: "The existing trees, hedges and new planting will effectively screen the project from the John Bunyan trail."

Residents have until July 24 to object to Central Bedfordshire Council.

OPPOSING VIEWS: Villagers call for help to fight the plans which developers say they are happy to discuss

Car sellers warned after thieves strike

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

i You can read more, as well as descriptions of the offenders, on our website

A SPATE of car thefts have led police to warn people to take care when selling their vehicles online.

Three cars have been stolen in Luton since the end of last month from people using sites such as Gumtree and Autotrader.

The first happened on June 26 when a black Land Rover was taken from its owner in Rowington Close after the thief arranged a test drive. The second was at 12.35pm on July 12 in Charlwood Road and involved a silver BMW.

This time, the offender struck after asking the victim to open the boot while he remained in the driver's seat.

At 2.35pm on the same day another theft took place in Reeves Avenue when a blue Audi A4 was pinched.

The 'buyer' took off with the car after asking the owner to get out to check the parking sensors.

PC Steve Livingstone, from Bedfordshire Police, said: "I would encourage anyone who is thinking of selling high value goods through auction or 'for sale' websites to take some extra precautions when meeting potential buyers."

Anyone with information should contact PC Livingstone on 01582 394107.

Driving me round the bend

SIR - I was driving home from work last Friday at 5pm.

I was sitting in the long traffic queue up Montrose Avenue, wondering what the problem was.

When I finally got across the A6 roundabout up Stockingstone Road, there was just a car broken down in the middle of the road.

The police were on the scene, doing a bad job of directing the traffic.

Yesteryears coppers would have simply pushed the car over to the kerb. Problem solved.

It's all health and safety these days. We can't have our rufly tufty, burly police officers straining themselves, or getting their hands dirty, can we?

This country was founded on a bit of hard graft and getting your hands dirty.

Now the UK is more like a dysfunctional family.

As for the police, bless 'em, they should be called traffic chaos cops.

Mother nature's having a laugh

SIR - Nature seems determined to poke fun at the climatologists.

Three years ago they forecast that by the summer of 2013 there would be no ice at all in the Arctic and that Antarctic ice was also

'Disturbed' by energy spend

SIR - I found the statement that the council is prepared to invest in a scheme costing £7 million to reduce energy costs to 750 council properties by between £150 and £350 disturbing.

This equates to £9,333 per property, assuming the average saving is £250 per property.

It would be more efficient to give each property £250 per year for 37 years towards their energy bill.

This would amount to £9,250 per property.

This would alleviate the costs of work involved, saving even more of taxpayers' money.

Also, in 37 years time, most of the properties will be replaced.

It is surely not beyond the council's understanding of simple maths to realise this commitment is to say the least, ridiculous.

Surely it finds enough ways to spend taxpayers' money without spending time in fantasy land.

T Cuthbert
Lime Avenue
Luton

shrinking at an alarming rate. But how did it turn out?

This year both the Arctic and the Antarctic had more ice than at any time since records began.

Before that they told us that the world would continue warming up, and yet every year since 1998 it has been cooler.

Of course, they argue that there may be forces at work and mechanisms they don't yet understand. But this precisely makes the sceptics' point for them doesn't it?

It couldn't be more clear if it were written across the sky: climatologists just don't understand their own 'science'.

But this isn't funny. Far from it. Because world governments are listening to their misinterpreted, hysterical guesswork and spending £billions of our money trying to combat something which may not exist.

And the massive expenditure on 'alternative energy' certainly isn't very democratic either, because the vast majority of people are far from convinced about man-made global warming.

This in spite of all the propaganda that certain vested interests have been bombarding us with.

They call themselves 'climate scientists' but proper scientists formulate theories based on observations which they use to make accurate predictions. This is exactly what climatologists have yet to do. All their most important predictions to date have turned out to be plain wrong.

It's undeniable that we are getting more frequent 'extreme weather events'.

So why not spend our cash preparing for droughts, high winds and floods instead of piling everything into the highly debatable claim that we're causing the problems.

It's surely the height of man's arrogance to think that by his puny efforts he may be able to alter what, almost certainly, is part of the natural cycles that our planet goes through?

A good defence system is always a safer bet than relying on 'expert' guesswork.

Something to shout about

SIR - I had to write to say I think the bad press Luton sometimes gets is so unfair.

I was born in the town and moved away when I was young, but returned recently for work.

From what I'd read and the perception it has - I was expecting some sort of danger zone, maybe even hell on earth... But I was pleasantly surprised.

All towns have their problems but Luton is a town of colour and diversity, it should shout about its achievements more.

Brussels should open up. What do EU think?

ON most issues David Cameron is like the wicked witch of the north, all over the place. It is almost as if he has no real principles but is very adept at jumping on any bandwagon he sees coming. As a media magnate once allegedly said about him: 'He behaves as if he doesn't believe in anything other than trying to construct what he believes will be the right public image.'

A bit like a one-time French politician Ledru, he seems to say: 'There go the people. I must follow them for I am their leader.'

Such with the EU. Is he for or is he against? Well that might depend on who is asking him, who at the moment seem to be mainly the anti-EU brigade.

Yet I am not always unsympathetic to his cause. I am pro EU but admit that for once I was a bit on the side of Cameron recently.

He opposed the Euro nod to give Jean-Claude Juncker the job as head of the European Commission. And I agreed. Juncker is one of those secretive, bureaucratic, we know best, types that I generally cannot stand.

And, when prime minister of Luxembourg for 18 years, he demonstrated these qualities admirably, not least in providing a tax haven for companies that should have been paying UK taxes. Even by EU standards, he was secretive and obstructive. So it is a shame we have such a man as the EU political head.

He will not resolve the problems that confront the EU but will merely put them to one side while he gets on with the serious business of back room deals and long, convivial lunches. This is part of a wider difference between us and the EU when it comes to doing politics. We are adversarial, confrontational even and up-front in our likes and dislikes. Having rows and forcing votes is what politics is all about. Mainland Europe is much more about collaboration and conciliation, often behind closed doors.

To some extent this represents different political roots. The British system is still rooted in class, which by its nature is straightforward and confrontational. In Europe other issues define their politics, such as ethnicity, religion and urban versus rural.

These are more complex issues and make it more difficult to be adversarial. They also make it more difficult to get simple majorities, so often governments are alliances. And, of course, these differences make more sense to use a PR voting system, which again makes majority government almost impossible.

The Tories have just had a taste of that, something most of them appear not to like but for the Lib Dems is heaven, as that is their only way for some of them to ride in the back of a ministerial car.

What we need from the EU is more openness and accountability. I remember some years ago being on the tail of a Bedfordshire UKIP MEP, Tom Wise, who had allegedly been claiming false expenses.

I called Brussels and asked to see his expense details. A rather surprised bureaucrat told me that such matters were 'naturally confidential'. Mr Wise was eventually found out and served his time, no thanks to the EU.

So let's open up the EU (and tighten the borders) is the resounding cry of most of the voters. Not likely, will be the hushed response of Mr Juncker.

CEREMONY: Thomas was 'surprised' to receive the honour

Student worker was Next in line for award

A UNIVERSITY under graduate has won the National Student Employee of the Year award.

Third-year advertising and marketing communications student Thomas Hedison, 21, from the University of Bedfordshire, was given the accolade at a ceremony in London.

The student ambassador had been nominated by his manager at the Next store where he has been working as an office manager.

Another branch to shut up shop

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

ANOTHER high street shop is shutting its doors in Luton, with babycare giants Mothercare announcing it's leaving The Mall.

The chain will cease to have a presence in the town from next month, following in the footsteps of HMV, Jessops, Comet and Blockbuster.

Many were as a result of the economic bite, with the companies either folding or reducing branch numbers.

What do YOU think?
Email editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

Cllr Sian Timoney, portfolio holder for regeneration and economic growth, said: "It's disappointing for the town, but it can't be helped with the credit crunch still having an impact on businesses."

She added: "A problem for babycare shops is that you can get everything you would from there at supermarkets and these days, which you didn't used to be able to. This is a reason why we don't want a superstore in the town. Whilst it would be good for customers, it would seriously harm other businesses."

A spokeswoman for Mothercare said: "We thank all our customers in the Luton area for their loyalty and support."

A small number of UK shops are closing as Mothercare looks at online channels and refurbishing its larger stores.

The closest branches will be in Milton Keynes and Bedford.

A THEATRE group will use a £7,000 grant to inspire youngsters.

Luton's Next Generation Youth Theatre (NGYT), run by husband and wife duo David Lloyd and Laura Hobson, will use the money to fund a totally original production, which will debut at The Hat Factory.

On receiving the cash, Mr Lloyd said: "It was amazing when we found out."

"We're a very small group who are very inclusive of anyone who wants to join, so it's great to know that what we are doing is being noticed."

For the production, they will work with Eva Sampson, the director of Luton based professional theatre group How It Ended (HIE) who have appeared at Edinburgh Fringe Festival in the past. The team will offer their expertise to help with the show.

Mr Lloyd said: "Like everything we do, it will be totally original and the content will be mostly driven by the kids involved, with a little bit of guidance from us."

Preparation is already underway, with the youth theatre company, comprising 25 performers aged 15 to 21, having already met up with HIE to discuss initial ideas.

On collaborating with HIE, Mr Lloyd said: "We've not worked with them before, but we've had a working relationship with them for a while. Our paths first crossed at the FutureSpark writing festival which they organised."

"They allowed some of our groups to perform there and since then we've had a good relationship.

"I'm looking forward to working with them because they're very ambitious."

"Both NGYT and HIE want to prove that groups from Luton can amount to big things."

He went on to add: "As much as we aim to inspire Luton to get involved in the arts, we don't want to stop there."

"Following the debut at The Hat Factory, we will

Custody deaths a 'serious concern'

BY RUPERT MARQUAND
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

TWO deaths have taken place in or following Bedfordshire Police custody, according to the Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC).

The statistics, which were released on Tuesday and cover the period from April 2013 to March 2014, show there was one death in or following police custody and one death following police contact.

One of those was Luton's Leon Briggs (pictured) who was arrested and then fell ill and died in hospital.

The other was Leonard

Flower, also of Luton, who was murdered by Sameer Babar, a mentally ill man who had previously been arrested for another offence.

During the time period there were 11 deaths in or following police custody across England and Wales which is the lowest number recorded.

IPCC chairwoman, Dame Anne Owers, said: "Every loss of life is a tragedy. So, while we welcome the continuing fall in the number of deaths in or following police custody, the high incidence of mental health concerns among those who die during or after custody remains a serious concern."

During 2012/13 in Bedfordshire there were a total of two deaths, both apparent suicides following custody, while in 2011/12 there was one which was also an apparent suicide.

Paedophile suspects arrested in sting

BEDFORDSHIRE Police have arrested 14 people after a nationwide clamp down on suspected paedophiles.

Currently, 13 people have been arrested with no charge and released on police bail as a result of Operation Notarise.

A Bedford man, 25-year-old John Hyde, has been charged with possessing indecent images of children as a result of the initiative.

DI Jerry Waite, of Bedfordshire Police Public Protection Unit, said: "We are currently in the process of examining the contents of 250 electronic devices connected with our local cases in Operation Notarise. We're pleased to have been able to help with such a significant and wide-ranging enquiry which has resulted in six joint investigations with Social Services into potential hands-on child abuse offences."

Across the UK, 660 suspected paedophiles have been arrested since the operation came into action in April.

Charity calls for help after money stolen

BY CARL MUNGASI

carl.mungasi@lutononsunday.co.uk

VANDALS stole money and destroyed goods after breaking into a charity shop on Monday night.

Keech Hospice Care's store in Park Street, Luton, is asking for donations and support from the community after cash was taken from collection pots near the till.

The shop was closed on Tuesday morning while police investigated the scene and staff cleaned the site.

Linda Croke, the shop manager, said: "It's devastating that people have managed to break into the store."

"We are a hospice that looks after local adults and children with life-limiting conditions and their families from the local community."

"All the money raised from the shop goes directly back to helping these families at a time when they need it most."

"Keech need your support now more than ever so please think of us when you are having a spring clean and want to donate some of your items."

200 complaints to councils in county

BY SARAH COX

editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

ALMOST 200 complaints were made against councils across Bedfordshire in the year to March 31, 2014.

The figures were revealed in a report by the Local Government Ombudsman (LGO).

Luton Borough Council came top in the area, with 84 complaints made.

Just six of these were upheld while 31 were closed after initial enquiries and 32 referred back to the council by the ombudsman for resolution.

A total of 70 complaints were registered against Central Bedfordshire Council in the same period.

Twenty-three of these were closed after initial enquiries, four upheld and 28 referred back.

In Bedford borough, just six of 43 complaints were upheld by the council, with 10 closed after initial enquiries and 18 referred back. The LGO provides this information to councils each year in a set of annual letters.

Dr Jane Martin, Local Government Ombudsman, said: "We want to work with councils to support excellent local complaint handling so that things are put right as quickly as possible. Our research highlights areas where improvements could be made to ensure the complainant's journey runs as smoothly as possible."

It's seventh heaven for flamingo chicks

A ZOO has seen seven adorable new flamingo chicks born over the last three weeks.

The new arrivals at Whipsnade join the 30 adults already there, two of which are part of the original group which first arrived in 1963.

All of the adults in the group take turns caring for the youngsters, whose trademark pink feathers won't begin to grow for another six months.

'Breach' exposed couple to fumes

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A ROOFING contractor must pay £500 to an elderly couple after his work left them exposed to deadly fumes.

John Stanley 47, of Hitchin Road, Luton, had been hired to sort out a water leak between a double chimney stack and roof tiles at a property in Black Swan Lane, Luton, in August 2011.

However, his team's repair work blocked the chimney above a gas fire, leading to a potentially-dangerous leak of combustion fumes. The incident was investigated by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE), which prosecuted Stanley at Luton Magistrates' Court on Monday. Magistrates heard employees of Stanley dismantled the double chimney, made some repairs, then rebuilt a single stack.

But they failed to check the flue for the gas fire was still in full working order and it later emerged it was this chimney that was blocked by the firm instead of the one for the disused fireplace.

The couple only found out about it in November 2012 when they called a registered engineer to examine the fire.

A HSE investigation found the fire had been used for over a year with all the fumes going into the loft, over the couple's bedroom, instead of through the flue and chimney.

Stanley, trading as King Roofing and Durable Plastics, pleaded guilty to a breach of Section 3(2) of the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974. He was given a four-month prison sentence suspended for two years, and ordered to pay £500 in compensation.

HSE inspector Robert Meardon said: "Stanley's sub-standard work created an on-going breach and a prolonged risk to the safety of a vulnerable and elderly couple."

Baroness opens £24 million road

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

AFTER more than 40 years of waiting, the town's completed £24 million inner ring road was officially opened this week.

On Monday, Transport Minister Baroness Susan Kramer opened the Luton Town Centre Transport Scheme, which links the junction of Old Bedford Road and Hucklesby Way to St Mary's roundabout.

At the heart of the scheme is a new two-way, single-carriageway link road between Midland Road and the railway station which passes under the station's multi-storey car park in Crawley Road before going onto a dual carriageway to St Mary's roundabout.

It will open to the public over the next few weeks during the school holidays.

Baroness Kramer said the road was a 'fantastic project' which would support the town centre.

She said: "If this had been designed 40 years ago, it would almost certainly have been a scheme that would have sliced through the town and would have destroyed the life of the town centre of Luton, so with modern approaches now to how we do town planning, this is going to support the town centre.

ROUTE: Baroness Kramer formally opening the ring road on Monday

"It supports a lot of the other development, making it so much more attractive, helping keep retail here, bringing in jobs and employment opportunities, so it's a fantastic project."

Councillor Dave Taylor, from Luton council, said the scheme represented a 'landmark moment in the regeneration of the town centre'.

He added that it would provide 'additional vehicle capacity' and improve through-traffic.

Big Dave's down but not out after setback

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A BARRISTER who planned to walk from John O'Groats to Land's End for charity has had to postpone it after being run over on his first attempt.

Dave Redmond, 31, from Houghton Regis, had been a few miles into his challenge on June 30 when he suffered multiple injuries after being hit from behind by a camper van.

Fortunately, he did not suffer any life-threatening injuries but doctors have said he'll be unable to put any serious pressure on his legs for a few weeks.

Mr Redmond, who now plans to do the walk in August next year, said he had been travelling along a road between Helberry and Keiss Castle when he was hit.

He said: "I was on the first day of my walk and I had an earphone in one of my ears."

"I was walking into traffic and then I was hit from behind by a camper van

DELAY: Dave Redmond, who is also known as 'Big Dave', said he was determined to turn his experience from a 'negative into a positive' and it injured both of my legs."

The impact of the collision threw Mr Redmond forward and by the time he got up the van had driven off.

He said he took some painkillers and tried to continue walking but had to stop.

Since his accident Mr Redmond, whose second child is due in October, has received many messages of support on Twitter and Facebook.

So far he has raised almost £3,000 of his £5,000 target for Help for Heroes, the Multiple Sclerosis Society and Macmillan Cancer. Dave said: "I have four or five weeks of recovery and then I can hopefully get out training again."

"I know that people are still behind me and that the sponsors are behind me."

"Initially I was depressed after it happened and I felt I'd let a lot of people down but donations are still coming in so it's now about turning a negative into a positive."

A Revolutionary Way To Stop Pain In Your Buttock Fast...

If you suffer with relentless pain in your buttock, drugs are NOT the only option

If you're wondering if there is a natural, safe solution - The answer is on this page!

Buttock related pain or hip pain as some people describe it because they feel it around the hip or pelvic bone can range from mild to severe. In some cases, it can significantly affect a person's quality of life and their ability to perform the activities of daily living.

Pain in the buttock area is most often caused by compression of nerves that supply the buttock muscles, so it will often feel as if the muscles themselves are the cause of the problem; but working directly on the muscles with stretching and massage usually only offers temporary relief since the cause of the problem is never properly dealt with. If the root cause is ignored the problem usually persists and worsens as time passes.

You will benefit from a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your painful buttock and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the problem; this means superior long-term results for most people. Buttock pain and its many associated problems may not have to drag you down for the rest of your life.

Call 01234 340317 NOW, we're ready to help you.

"The pain in my right buttock started out as just a dull ache, but after a few months I had throbbing pain every time I sat down for a few minutes. Considering my job involves sitting virtually all day I was in constant agony and could hardly concentrate. I felt restless all the time, couldn't sit still and worst of all, I couldn't focus on my job.

My boss wasn't very understanding at all. I'm convinced he thought I was faking it.

My GP tried to help me, but all the medication she prescribed didn't really do anything at all to alleviate how terrible it felt. I tried physio too for 6 treatments, I got stretches and exercises, which I stuck too, but the relief was minimal.

Out of desperation I tried Atlas which I pass every day on my way to work. They picked up a compressed nerve on my scans, and after 2 weeks of working on it I can say that I am about 80% better already." - Sarah P, Bromham.

Did you know that forests in Europe, which provide wood for making into paper and many other widely used materials, are 30% larger than in 1950? In fact they're increasing by 1.5 million football pitches every year.†

If you love reading your favourite newspaper, isn't it good to know that it's made from natural and renewable wood.

Giving teens a chance to prove themselves

SIXTEEN and 17 year olds from Bedfordshire and beyond are being given the final chance to take part in National Citizen Service (NCS) this summer and I would urge them to do so.

There are limited places left on the August programme, which is run throughout England and Northern Ireland by the Cabinet Office.

NCS is a fantastic opportunity to make new friends, get ahead and have the summer of a lifetime.

NCS receives a significant government subsidy owing to the unique opportunity it affords to young people.

While each place is valued at more than £1,000, the four-week programme costs just £50 to take part.

After an exciting four night stay at an outward bound activity centre, teens attend a number of exclusive workshops, where they learn to develop skills really valued by employers and universities.

From first aid and communication, to commercial awareness and project management, NCS participants work with experts to hone their skill set and realise their full potential.

Teams of young people are then presented with their final challenge – designing

Andrew Selous, MP for South West Bedfordshire, urges 16 and 17 year olds to sign up to the National Citizen Service project and delivering their own 'social action project'; a community-focused venture which they must create around local needs.

Working together, teens design, fund, market and implement the project across 30 voluntary hours. They'll talk to local leaders, charities and members of the public to develop key relationships and ascertain the needs of the community.

One brilliant team from last year raised more than £1,000 so that a group of children with special needs could attend a fun day with their families, carers and teachers.

The children, all students at Weatherfield Academy, were treated to entrance tickets, transport and a picnic prepared by the volunteers.

I have been really impressed with the confidence the young people I met had gained from their experience.

NCS is a vital and unique opportunity for teens to find out what they're good at and take a positive step towards further education or employment.

I'm often concerned with the negative and unfair press that can surround young people, and I'd encourage every 16 and 17-year-old to take advantage of this programme to show what they're really made of.

After completing NCS, local youngsters will be invited to a graduation ceremony recognising their achievements.

They'll also become part of an established 'Graduate Network', allowing them to stay connected with the programme and be privy to a host of local work experience opportunities, volunteering projects and exciting events.

There's still time to apply for our Bedfordshire programme beginning on August 8.

NCS also runs condensed versions of its programmes throughout the autumn and spring half terms.

WE'RE all going on a summer holiday... or maybe you're not?

Maybe it's one of those years when you're holidaying right here; camping in the secluded foothills of your own back garden; going exclusively all-inclusive and enjoying a fortnight of staycation comfort.

Tell you what - you don't have to worry about airport security, missed ferries or certifiably mad continental drivers when you holiday at home!

The weather's gorgeous and there are some great places to visit, things to do and fun to be had right here on the doorstep. Days out with the family might only take a few hours but the memories last a lifetime.

Whether it's a lazy day strolling in the sunshine, an active hour working out in the gym or a cooling dip in the pool while you splash all your cares away, getting out and about this summer will do you a power of good.

And if you're feeling good then you'll want to be looking your best too. Pamper yourself with a well-deserved mini spa break and then follow it up with a little retail therapy to lift your spirits even further - I dare you!

Summertime family fun at 360 Play

Summer is a great opportunity for all the family to enjoy some quality time together and for families with young children there's no better place to go for a great day out than one of 360 Play's children's play centres.

Situated in Milton Keynes, Stevenage and Leicester, 360 Play is one of the UK's leading family entertainment brands and each centre offers a great day out for children, with a host of fun, creative and imaginary play opportunities that are sure to keep them happy and occupied for hours. All the activities available are designed so mums and dads can join in too, so it really is 'fun for all.'

360 Play venues are open each day from 9.30am to 5.30pm, Sunday to Thursday, and until 6pm on Fridays and Saturdays and are packed full of things to do, both indoors and outdoors.

Inside there's a three storey central play structure with lots of climbing, crawling and sliding opportunities, dodgem cars, a carousel, the 360 Street creative play area and lots more activities to ensure youngsters use up their excess energy, while the outdoor Club 360 area offers plenty more to enjoy too. In fact there's so much on offer it's hard to decide what to do first!

And when it's time for a breather, visitors can take advantage of the comfortable seating areas and café, where a wide choice of freshly made food and beverage offerings are available. Early visitors can even enjoy a hearty breakfast or brunch to set them up for the day. As an added bonus, throughout the summer holidays we have a special summer voucher offer for two adults and two children to come to any of our centres for just £17.00 for the day, another great reason to visit.

But that's not all! Unlike some other play centres, at 360 Play there are no time limits so guests can stay and play all day if they wish. And with free parking right outside each venue too, and a friendly, safe environment assured, it's the best place to be this summer holiday – whatever the weather.

Full information can be found on the 360 Play website at

School's (almost) out for summer so let's get ready for some holiday fun

WHAT'S ON

SUMMER HOLIDAY FUN

Various dates and locations

THE summer holidays are fast approaching and with that comes six weeks of free time for youngsters across the country.

However, we've compiled a selection of summer schools and programmes over the coming months in the area that might just help keep any boredom at bay.

For the sporty kids out there, Luton Town FC are running a series of football training schools across Luton and Central Bedfordshire.

Sessions are being held in Luton, Dunstable, Barton, Caddington, Leighton Buzzard and Toddington.

There are also separate courses designed specifically for goalkeepers running in Luton and Dunstable.

The sessions start on July 24 and run until August 29.

The school travels between different locations, so be sure to check the dates for the location you are interested in to avoid disappointment.

The schools run for between two and four days, costing £15 for one day, £30 for two, £40 for three and £45 for four. For more information and specific dates for each location, contact 01582 583618.

From July 28 to August 9, Tina's School of Dance will be hosting a summer school which sees children prepare for and perform in a musical theatre production called The Strictly Talent Factory.

The musical play is inspired by TV talent shows such as the X Factor and is written by David Pemberton.

It features famous songs such as Fame, Summer Nights and Singing in the Rain.

There are three groups, for ages five to seven, eight to 11 and 12 to 16.

Bookings are flexible, ranging from a block of two days right up to the full two weeks. For more information and to book, contact Tina Buhagiar on 07714161853 or by emailing tinasdanceschool@aol.com.

A series of drama workshops will be hosted at Leighton Buzzard Library Theatre, run by the Full House Theatre group (pictured). The sessions take place on August 26 and 27 with a morning and afternoon class each day running from 10am to noon and 12.30pm to 2.30pm respectively.

On Tuesday, August 26 the morning slot will be a Bewitching Drama

Workshop, while the session afternoon will be a physical theatre session based on dreamlike movement.

The Wednesday will offer mask making in the morning, with a performance based around using masks in the afternoon.

Prices for each workshop are £6 or it's £10 for the whole day.

For more information contact Leighton Buzzard Theatre on 0300 300 8125.

For older youngsters in Luton looking for something to do over the summer break, Tokko Youth Centre on Gordon Street has a wealth of activities going on over the next few months.

The centre, which caters for people aged 13-19, has a large number of events planned, both at the purpose built facility on Gordon Street and trips away from the town.

The activities run from July 28 to August 29.

Trips lined up include Thorpe Park, paintballing, swimming and skateparks, along with a sight-seeing trip around London for just £5.

There is also a large number of events being held at the centre itself, which range from video game sessions to cooking workshops and quizzes.

Aside from the organised events, there is a cafe, internet cafe and games room on site.

Spaces for each event are limited and members take priority, but anyone can come along if there is space available.

You can become a member of the centre for £15 a year.

If you require more details, contact the centre on 01582 544990.

MEET THE ANIMALS

Whipsnade Zoo
All year round

THIS summer Whipsnade Zoo is launching a set of brand new Meet the Animals experiences, which will allow visitors to get closer than ever before to their favourite creatures.

It will be hosted by expert zookeepers and lucky ticket holders will go behind the scenes and connect with some of the world's largest and rarest animals.

The VIP experiences includes a chance to 'meet' elephants, giraffes, lions and sloths, and each experience is set to be a unique adventure.

Special ticket holders will be able to feed a sloth bear, discover what it feels like to have a giraffe eating branches of leaves from their own hands or feed a majestic African lion.

Pachyderm enthusiasts will be treated to a hands-on lesson in how to bathe one of the zoo's largest animals, the Asian elephant.

Catherine Pearce, the zoo's experiences manager, said: "We're delighted to be able to offer visitors a chance to come face to face with some of our most popular residents at ZSL Whipsnade Zoo."

"At ZSL, we know that people love animals and want to feel connected with nature and the world around us, and these experiences encourage that."

From Nashville Grey Skies to a silver lining over Bedford(Shires)

MUSIC

THE SHIRES

The Stables, Wendon
Thursday, 8.45pm

RATHER than 'whispering' about them, BBC Radio 2 country music guru, Bob Harris, has been making quite a lot of noise about The Shires.

But then, just one year into this new country pop duo's collaboration, there's plenty to shout about.

The Shires are Ben Earle and Crissie Rhodes. They are a team but they're not an item, though they do live within striking distance of each other; Ben in Slip End and Crissie in Flitwick.

Not much more than 12 months ago, Ben was a struggling song writer for other people and Crissie was a session singer. Ben says: "We met through a friend on Facebook."

"I'd posted a plea saying 'there must be a country singer somewhere...' and it was Crissie. When we met in person we got on really well and our voices sounded great together. I wanted to do a country project and though the response to that was 'nobody really likes country music' we decided to go for it. Then we met someone who knew someone who had a friend in the industry – and yes, they really did!"

COUNTRY FOLK: Ben Earle and Crissie Rhodes are bringing the sounds of Nashville to the leafy shires of 'il' of England

Not just any old someone either. Music executive (married to DJ rock chick legend Jo Whaley) Steve Morton got on board. "We couldn't really believe it," says Ben, "but country music is on the rise and it's changed a lot. It's a lot more accessible and a lot more 'poppy' in the same way that Mumford and Sons suddenly made folk cool. Our music is lyrically natural to us and we don't try to sing any differently than we speak. It's about the essence of country."

So in this case, when in Nashville, don't try to write Nashville lyrics. "There are only so many rhymes for words like 'truck' and 'whiskey' anyway," says Ben. But to Nashville they went and recorded their first album, due for release in September.

Signed by Decca in the UK and Universal Music Group in Nashville, their first two singles, Nashville Grey Skies and Tonight, have been rapturously received.

"For us," says Ben, with just a hint of self-consciousness "the big thing is so clichéd. My job was in retail, selling mobile phones and now... it's just the fact that we are able to make music every day. We both think we're so lucky that we can keep on doing what we do."

PRESS RELEASE

JULY 2014

Summer market looks bright for home owners as seven buyers chase every property

Estate agency Connells in Luton is urging local home owners to seize the opportunity of a sale this summer. According to the branch team, Connells is seeing more buyers, more offers on properties and more sales compared to last year.

Because of increased activity across the local housing market, Connells is advising homeowners who wish to move this summer to get in touch. In May alone, its estate agency network recorded a 14% increase in buyers looking to purchase a home. This has fuelled a 23% increase in offers and a 15% increase in sales across Connells' branches.

Encouragingly, the number of new properties coming onto the market has risen by 6.5% but this still falls far short of demand. Indeed, Connells recorded seven buyers chasing each new home coming onto the market in May.

"Now is a great time to put your property on the market and secure a buyer," says Lee Clark, Branch Manager for Connells. "Not only are there lots of committed buyers actively seeking to purchase a home, but better weather and longer daylight hours allows homeowners to show off their properties to their maximum potential.

"This is especially true for properties with gardens as flowers will be in full bloom so a seller can make their property look its absolute best," Lee continues.

The Connells team is urging anyone who is thinking of selling to get in touch. If you are interested in moving home and would like to book a free market appraisal of your property, please contact Connells on 01582 450999 or email: Luton@connells.co.uk

There are what Volvo describes as 'more focused and determined-looking headlamps', added to create what's intended to be a more 'expressive' front end. The S60's horizontal lines have been emphasised at both the front and rear. Together with details such as a wider grille and daylight running lights, they give the car a more striking, squat presence.

Under the bonnet, Volvo has at last developed its own range of 'Drive-E' 2.0-litre engines after years of relying on Ford and PSA units. These powerplants will take some time to filter through though. The first 181bhp Drive-E diesel unit is fitted to the popular D4 model. In the rest of the diesel line-up though, the older engines still continue. So the baseline D2 carries on with its 115bhp 1.6-litre PSA unit, while the D3 and D5 variants continue with the five cylinder Ford engine in either 2.0-litre or 2.4-litres guises putting out either 136 or 215bhp. There's a Drive-E petrol unit too, but it's only fitted to the top of the range T6 where it comes with 306bhp. Most customers of petrol-powered S60 models though, will be looking at the 1.6-litre GTDi petrol engine that offers 150bhp in the T3.

WINNING WAYS: Alex Wall celebrates a goal

Hatters kick off pre-season with win over Hitchin

FOOTBALL

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A HAT-TRICK from striker Alex Wall saw Luton Town record a 5-0 win over Hitchin Town in their first pre-season game of the summer.

More than 1,000 Hatters fans turned out for the tie at Top Field which Luton won with ease.

The visitors pressed from the off and nearly found the net with 10 minutes gone, when Luke Wilkinson guided a Jake Howells cross towards goal, which was cleared off the line by Garry Jones.

Just two minutes later, Howells flicked the ball on to Shaun Whalley, who cut in from the left and blasted the ball past Tahj Bell in the Hitchin goal.

The Hatters had chances to make it 2-0 with Wall, Wilkinson and Robbie Burns going close.

Luton doubled their advantage just after the half hour mark, when Wall netted his first from an inch-perfect Whalley free kick.

Howells came close to netting himself before the break, but Luton had to settle for 2-0 at the half.

From the restart, Luton didn't let up on their opponents and Wall added another with 51 minutes on the clock.

Howells was the architect once more, swinging in a cross from the left which Wall finished expertly on the volley.

He then grabbed his third from the penalty spot six minutes later, when he was brought down in the box by David Corran. He stepped up himself and slotted home from 12 yards.

Soon after, manager John Still made 10 changes to the team, with only Stephen McNulty remaining from the team which started the game.

The new line up kept pressing, with substitute Alex Lawless testing Bell on 68 minutes with a powerful low shot which was well saved.

However, Bell was beaten again soon after when Mark Cullen's shot from just outside the box was deflected past Bell, leaving the keeper with no chance to try to reduce the damage.

Luke Rooney and Ricky Miller both had chances to add a sixth for the Hatters, but they had to settle for five in a good start to their pre-season campaign as they prepare for their return to league football.

The Hatters are next in action later today when they make the short trip to North London to face Barnet at The Hive Stadium.

School sport stars' athletics success

ATHLETICS

BEDFORDSHIRE and Luton enjoyed a successful English Schools Athletics Championships.

But there were some disappointments, none more so than for Jamal Lewis (Icknield High School), one of the favourites for the Inter Boys 800 metres, who was too ill to run.

Three athletes gained medals, one an international vest and the junior boys brought home the trophy for winning their section of the Minor Counties team event.

Four athletes placed fifth, including Rhys Lewis (Luton Sixth Form College) who ran a personal best of 1:52.54 in the 800m.

Alex Ingham (Bedford Sixth Form) threw close to his best with 56.57m in the javelin, and in the junior boys, Ben Clements (Redborne) was 12.86m in the shot, while Ertone Bomolo (Mark Rutherford) who had only ever competed in school events prior to these championships, leapt 12.75m in the triple jump.

Outstanding fourth places were gained by Nathan Cox (Mark Rutherford) with an excellent lifetime best of 36.56 in the junior boys 300 metres, and by seasoned campaigner Eavion Richardson (Lealands) in the Inter Girls Long Jump with 5.55m.

Lee Johnson's (Hastingsbury) performance (1.93M) in the Inter Boys High Jump, gained him the bronze medal and selection to represent England Schools in the School's International Match in Cardiff.

Sophie Billington (Barnfield College) capped a long career at the English Schools Championships with a bronze medal in the senior girls 800m with a big personal best of two minutes 08.06 seconds; whilst Teepee Princewill (Bedford School) set a massive lifetime best of 13 metres 26 in the last round of the junior boys triple jump to claim second place and the silver medal.

Deservedly winning the Junior Boys Borough of Watford Cup for the sixth time was the icing on the cake, with all team members keen to be selected for next year's championships in Gateshead.

DISAPPOINTMENT: Runner Jamal Lewis was too ill to take part, but it was otherwise a good athletics day

Alphonsi's World Cup call

RUGBY UNION

BY SCOTT KIRK

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

UNIVERSITY of Bedfordshire alumni Maggie Alphonsi MBE is in England Women's rugby union squad for next month's World Cup in France.

The Saracens flanker, 30, will be going to her third Women's Rugby World Cup across the Channel, having represented the Red Rose as they reached the final on the previous two occasions.

Helping her country to a record-breaking seventh successive Six Nations title two years ago, Maggie will be hoping for similar success on the world's biggest stage, where England start their campaign against Samoa on Friday, August 1.

England are in pool A alongside Samoa, Spain and Canada.

Other games England will feature in include a match against Spain on August 5, and they'll take on Canada four days after that.

The teams are then seeded from one to 12 depending on where they have finished on the basis of their three games, which then dictates their next two games.

Graduating from Bedfordshire, which was the former De Montfort University, in 2006 with a BSc in Sport and Exercise Science, Maggie has gone on to bag several gongs.

The include the Sunday Times Sportswoman of the Year prize in 2010.

She was also awarded an MBE in the 2012 Queen's Birthday Honours List and in 2010 she received an Honorary Doctor of Arts from the University - both of which were for services to rugby.

There's no Law against pushing up the leagues

LAWLESS: Alex sees no reason why Luton can't progress up the leagues

More Hatters' news
at luton-dunstable.co.uk/Sport/Luton-Town-FC

FOOTBALL

BY SCOTT KIRK
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

ALEX Lawless says he has waited for years to reach the Football League with Luton Town, as he looks ahead to the biggest season of his career when the new campaign begins next month.

And Lawless sees no reason why the team cannot now push through the leagues.

The former Welsh-youth international, who first joined in 2010, admits he signed with one eye on the higher divisions.

Lawless featured 14 times in League Two for Torquay United in 2005/06 but says Luton's return to the Football League marks the biggest stage in his career.

"I would say so (it's the biggest season)," he said.

"The wait has been years.

"I came here to be playing in the higher leagues with Luton. At the time, that was a massive decision for me.

"It'll mean everything now to represent the club at this level having been here so long waiting for it to happen."

For the 29-year-old, League Two represents merely the beginning of a rise up the divisions for himself and the Kenilworth Road team.

And emulating England international Rickie Lambert, who was playing for Macclesfield Town in 2002, is not out of the question for Luton's ambitious midfielder, he believes.

"You see so many stories in football of good things, like Rickie Lambert," he said.

"That, to me, is proof that it can still happen and I believe in stuff like that.

"I'm just going to try my very best for it to happen to me.

"This club is more than equipped for that to happen. It's a matter of getting promoted with Luton Town as many times as possible."

First, though, manager John Still and his men must navigate their way through League Two - but Lawless is adamant that promotion is more than a distinct possibility.

"It's by no means easy," he said. "I just think that you've seen it happen with other teams before.

"We had a strong winning mentality last season with our unbeaten run. I see us in a prime position to go and carry that on. That's why the positive thoughts and the ambitions are there."

On a personal level, the former Fulham man is looking to put last season's injury problems behind him and push on during the peak years of his career.

"At this point last year, I was already playing catch up. I wanted to be a bit more ahead this year.

"There was a bit of work done out of season and hopefully it's paying off. Fingers crossed, things are going well so far.

"I just want to play and do well for the team and hopefully we'll be successful. I'd like to think that, progressing on from last year, I'll stay away from injuries and play as regularly as I can."
